

A shared control arm manufactures correlation between otherwise unrelated contrasts

Two contrasts that share a denominator correlate at +0.52 even when their numerators are unrelated. The apparent IR-vs-replicative agreement (+0.56) is almost entirely that artifact: with independent controls it is +0.12.